SENATOR CROSBY: Yeah, okay.

SENATOR JENSEN: ...and there were 16 bills onto the committee...

SENATOR CROSBY: Yeah, I have the list.

SENATOR JENSEN: ...amendment. We did whittle that down to four. Certainly any...anybody can do anything they want. They can refile those amendments if they so desire. I think you have heard what Senator Chambers did say, that if this "Christmas tree" gets too heavy it's going to fall over. It is the annual clean-up bill that does need to pass, and we looked at all of the 16 bills and we said, as a committee, and all of us were president...or present, as to what needed to pass this year, what could maybe remain there until next year, and that was the decision that was made, that 4 out of the 16 should stay. That is now the committee amendment and, again, we have a short period of time to move this. I do not want this "tree" to fall over because of the weight that's put on it, and that was the rationale for removing...

SENATOR CROSBY: But...

SENATOR JENSEN: ...some of those.

SENATOR CROSBY: ...but we still have all these amendment that are filed so we have to listen to those, unless people withdraw them. And so I don't think that all of the introducers of all those bills agreed, or did they?

SENATOR JENSEN: No, they certainly did not agree.

SENATOR CROSBY: So...so we may still have to hear now or on Select, some of them.

SENATOR JENSEN: Well, I...I would...

SENATOR CROSBY: I know you can't...I know you can't control that.

SENATOR JENSEN: That's right.
